

As the fall leaves begin to turn...

Take the fall chill off with three new "You Choose Two" items October through December. The Butternut Squash Bisque, a blending of butternut squash, savory spices topped with maple sour cream and roasted pumpkin seeds is just the ticket to warm you up. Consider pairing it with a Ham Cheddar Pineapple Panini piled high with honey-cured ham, Vermont white cheddar, caramelized pineapple and Dijon mustard grilled between slices of sourdough bread. If you are craving a taste of Thanksgiving, try the Harvest Turkey Sandwich with warm smoked turkey and home-style stuffing, cranberry sauce and mayo between two pieces of sourdough bread.

facebook

twitter

Socialize with Paradise in a whole new way

Do you find yourself dreaming about Paradise Bakery while sitting at your desk? Are you checking your e-mail and yearning for just a glimpse of a Paradise cookie? We have the answer for you! Paradise Bakery is now on Facebook and Twitter! Check out our Facebook fan page for news, pictures, games and videos. Since October is National Cookie Month, check our Twitter and fan page for fun facts and games over the next few weeks.

nutritional information

catering

menu

Chef Gregory's Blog: It's National Cookie Month!

Not only does October have the fine distinction of ending with Halloween, but it is also National Cookie Month! You know how much we love cookies at Paradise, so I will be providing you with tips and tricks on how to make the best cookies. If you are not the baking type, I also have some great quick ideas using cookies that will make you the culinary star of any Halloween party. Read it all on my blog.

Let's Talk Elephant

There is Elephant talk going on in the mile high city of Denver. Well, maybe not real elephants, but the non-profit organization Elephant Talk is talking about hunger and taking action. Randy and Sandy Harris saw a problem in Colorado: struggling families, unemployment and starvation. These people were turning to the food banks, however, the food banks themselves were struggling to keep up with the demand.

The Harris's decided it was time to do something about it, and started Elephant Talk. Recently, Randy Harris received confirmation from the community that Elephant Talk was making a difference. On his daily rounds, he was approached by a stern faced man who said, "I have lived in this neighborhood for years but more and more people have been struggling, some starving. All kinds of agencies and organizations have tried to help, but it's been a lot of talk. I got up this morning to tell you that finally someone has made a huge difference in this neighborhood. We have food. We have hope. No one is starving. And it's solely because of your organization. I wanted you to know that we appreciate what you have done."

Elephant Talk develops relationships with food vendors who would like to donate food to the food banks. Then, they rise before dawn and pick-up the food and deliver it to their network of food banks. All of the Paradise Bakery Denver locations donate their day-old baked goods to Elephant Talk.

Elephant Talk is continuing to grow and Paradise Bakery is proud to contribute to the network of food banks they serve.

It's time for sugar and spice and all things nice

The season of sugar and spice is upon us, and we have just the treat. The Ginger Molasses cookie arrives this month! As the days grow shorter, grab a cup of coffee, a Ginger Molasses cookie and be instantly transported to a roaring fire and comfy chair. Well, at least you can imagine it!

